Open Innovation CoDev Conference in Shanghai, China Announces Key Note Speakers

October 1, 2014 – NEENAH, Wis., - Cheryl Perkins, founder and President of Innovationedge is this year's conference chair at the 3rd Annual CoDev Asia Conference held in Shanghai, China. The conference is organized by Innovationedge, the China Institute for Innovation with premier sponsor, and the American Chamber of Commerce in Shanghai. The CoDev Asia Conference will be held in Shanghai, China November 11 and 12, 2014.

CoDev Asia is the comprehensive source for open innovation learning. The conference brings together a group of leading experts and advanced practitioners prepared to share their experiences and candid insights on the latest trends, what's working, what's not, as well as the future direction of co-development and open innovation strategies.

Specifically, 2014 CoDev Asia will be taking a closer look at how open innovation efforts are helping top companies build capabilities and networks to create business value. The program highlights includes keynote presentations by Ron Sharpe, Amway; Regina Galang, Diageo; and case study presentations from BASF, International Flavors & Fragrances, Unilever, and Tsinghua University.

2014 CoDev Asia is a great venue to enhance a company's open innovation capabilities, identify potential partners and expand your innovation network. View the conference agenda and register for the 2014 CoDev Asia conference.
